Supervisors determine vo-tech funding illegal

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Tuesday's offer by the board of supervisors for a one-time payment of .26 mills for needs at the school district-owned vocational-technical center was determined illegal Thursday, based on information gathered by Chancery Clerk Mike Necaise.

Necaise said state statutes permit the board to contribute to an accredited junior college, but prohibit contribution to a county school district.

"In their opinion (James A. Grayson, state auditor's office, and Smith Sparks, state Department of Education), the vo-tech center is no different than any other educational curriculum," Necaise reported. "It should benefit from the same millage as the school district."

Beginning in September 1988, Hancock County contributed yearly to Pearl River Community College for buildings, repairs and renovations as needed at the Poplarville college and county located Pearl River Vo-Tech Center.

The county school district accepted ownership of the center in June 1991.

During the Tuesday meeting, Superintendent Myrna Bourgeois contended that Hancock County's previous contributions for the center should continue in spite of change of title.

She said at that time, Pearl River Community College did not maintain the building as board members thought they were doing, and now she has a building with many structural problems, including a leaking Chamber hosts waste disposal forum Wed.

BY JANET MCQUEEN

The Hancock County Chamber of Commerce will host a public meeting Wednesday, September 16 at 7 p.m. at the Hancock County Civic Center to discuss onsite waste disposal in the county.

The forum was scheduled in response to a public outcry criticizing a law which went into effect in July mandating stringent guidelines for individual wastewater systems, which renders many lots within the county unusable.

The most restrictive parts of the law involve property adjoining state waters used for swimming, skiing, recreational fishing and boating.

The setback requirement for installing secondary treatment components of the disposal system (field drains, pressurized pipe systems, etc.) is 100 feet. A 50-foot setback must be maintained between the discharge point which occurs on some of the alternate systems and the residence and property lines; and a 100-foot separation must be kept between this discharge point and any well.

There must also be a 10-foot setback from all property lines for all parts of the sewage system

Cleaning up

Volunteers poised for action Sept. 19

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Hancock residents will participate in a county-wide cleanup Saturday, Sept. 19, which includes the beachfront from the mouth of the Jourdan River to the mouth of Bayou Cadet.

The project is sponsored by the Hancock Chamber of Commerce's Beautification Committee, and is in conjunction with the Mississippi Marine Trash Task Force's annual beach and island cleanup.

Persons and businesses who have adopted a section of a highway, road or street are urged to clean on that day, too, Carol Vegas, chamber litter control chairman said.

There will be three registration points, one at Beach Boulevard at Ulman Avenue, Bay St. Louis; the Garfield Ladner Memorial Pier, Beach Boulevard, Waveland; and Lakeshore Road, Lakeshore.

Registration will start at 8:30 a.m. and participants will be assigned areas and supplied with plastic bags for litter.

Groups desiring a pre-assigned area can call the chamber at 467-9048, Ellis C.

Cuevas, beautification chairman, said.

"We have adopted a 'Litter Free '93' campaign and the only way we can achieve this is by having everyone in our county participate," Cuevas added.

Basil Kennedy, chamber president, is requesting all chamber members gather at the I-10 Welcome Center at 9 a.m. next Saturday to collect litter from the interchange.

"The chamber has an assigned two-mile stretch of

Bourgeois fires transportation head

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

County superintendent Myrna Bourgeois fired the district's newly hired transportation director Thursday, citing dissatisfaction with job performance and bus route complaints from parents as reasons for the action.

Kenneth Kothmann was hired by the board in June upon recommendation of a three-member committee and the superintendent.

District 4 school board member Kay Sones stated, "I was surprised at the superintendent's action, for I was unaware there was a problem until Tuesday's board meeting."

"Every year within the transportation department there is a flood of complaints within the first few weeks. Bus drivers are still learning where new students are located and trying new routes.

There is also the problem of continuous enrollment of new students, well past Labor Day.

"It normally takes two to three weeks to work out the best possible routes and to address complaints. Complaints occur every year, with in every school district, no matter how well prepared the transportation department. There will always be problems

Taylor receives clearance letter

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

Mississippi 5th District Rep. Gene Taylor received a letter of clearance from the Justice Department Thursday, notifying him that he was no longer under investigation in the House bank scandal.

"I have received a letter from Judge Malcolm Wilkey, special counsel to the attorney general, that my records do not disclose any conduct which would warrant further inquiry," Taylor stated.

Taylor's account was one of the 329 House bank accounts investigated by Wilkey.

He had previously admitted to writing 14 overdrafts totaling $5,775.

Bayou Caddy Casino investment increases

BY JACQUI COCHRAN

The Hancock County Board of Supervisors was told Tuesday that Bayou Caddy Casino Corporation's initial anticipated investment of $2.5 million is now in excess of $10 million.

Bayou Caddy president

George Baxter said the corporation hopes to welcome its first customers aboard the Queen of the Bayou in 90 days.

He reported funding and permits are secured, site engineering should be completed next week and construction bids are being taken. Baxter said renovations to the ship, formerly the Southern Elegance, will probably be done in Pascagoula.

Bayou Caddy Casino has leased 49,300 square feet of water bottoms from the state on a five-year lease at $85,000 per year, he said.

Other areas Baxter reported on dealt with future considerations for parking an hotel facilities.

"We have leased from Cure family additional acreage north of Shipyard Road," he stated. "It is shrub wetlands, so we are negotiating with the Bureau of Marine Resources (BMR) and the U.S. Army Corp of Engineers for 250 feet we can use for additional parking of 600 vehicles."

Baxter said, Bayou Caddy Casino has also received permission from the county to improve parking along Beach Boulevard to Lakeshore Road, if needed. He stated, there will be parking adjacent to the ship as well as spaces leased along the pier for boardwalk-type vending stands.

"Again, local residents are

Ethnic impact on state to be studied at St. Rose forum

"Looking for Mississippi," a project sponsored by the State Historical Museum and funded by the Mississippi Humanities Council, will hold its first public forum in Bay St. Louis on Thursday, Sept. 17 at 7 p.m. at St. Rose de Lima Church, 301 S. Necha Avenue.

This forum is the first in five that will explore the profound influences of Mississippi's rich and varied ethnic groups on the state's culture.

Through the public forums, the project will spotlight ethnic traditions statewide and demonstrate their historical as well as current impact on life in Mississippi.

Stephen Young, cultural historian, and D. C. Young, documentary photographer, will conduct the meeting, at which they will present a slide show on ethnicity, and elicit discussion as to the effect ethnic communities have had—and still have—on the culture of the Gulf Coast.

The largest number of distinct ethnic groups in the state is found on the Mississippi Gulf Coast, a fact that has contributed to the Coast's unique history and culture.

Among these groups are the Choctaw; Creole (a mixture of Choctaw, French, Spanish and African elements); ancestors of Irish, Italian, Greek and Slavonian immigrants; and the Acadian French of Louisiana.

In recent years new settlers, among them Germans, Indians, and Hispanics, have been attracted by industries on the Coast. The growth of the Vietnamese community since the early 1980s has helped revive the Coast's seafood industry.

The Youngs hope to identify persons from these ethnic communities who can offer oral histories and historic photographs, and to introduce the general public—especially teachers, civic leaders, and media leaders—to the study of ethnicity and its role in Gulf Coast culture.

Following the meeting, the historian and photographer will remain in the community for several days to conduct interviews, copy historic photographs, and take new photographs of current life in ethnic communities.

The meeting is open to the public free of charge. Material gathered from the project will be compiled for an exhibition at the State Historical Museum in April-May 1993. The exhibit will then be available on loan to Mississippi libraries, schools, and museums free of charge.

For more information on the project, contact Patti Carr Black, director, State Historical Museum, 1-359-6920 or D. C. Young, 1-545-8534.

McGruff houses come to Bay/Waveland school

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Children in the Bay/Waveland area will have McGruff Houses to turn to, under a program sponsored by the Bay St. Louis Police Department starting this year, Lt. Don Osco, crime prevention officer—said.

McGruff House, a national program, is a temporary haven for children who find themselves in an emergency or frightening situation, such as being bullied, followed, or hurt while walking in a neighborhood.

Individuals who volunteer their homes as McGruff Houses agree to make emergency telephone calls for children in trouble and watch for neighborhood children as they go to and from school.

The program for Bay St. Louis is being handled by Lt. Osco and Officer Jim Clark, assistant crime prevention officer.

The officers and McGruff have been making appearances at PTA meetings explaining the program and recruiting volunteers for McGruff Houses.

Orientation and information sessions are being held for volunteers parents and children.

When a youngster faces problems such as, being afraid of an unleashed dog, seeing an accident or a stranger following in a car, he can seek assistance with the program in effect.

A McGruff House is not a medical aid station, a restaurant, or public restroom.

Osco emphasized McGruff Houses are different from other block parent programs.

First, McGruff. The houses display a symbol—McGruff, the trench-coated spokesdog for crime prevention—that 99% of children recognize because they've seen him on television or he's visited their school, said Osco.

Second, the McGruff House program has built-in safeguards against abuse. While no system is foolproof, the program provides many precautions to ensure the safety of children.

—Adults who volunteer their houses agree to a law enforcement check.

—McGruff House signs are numbered and released from the nation inventory only upon written request from law

Pearlington disposal site remains closed to trash

The Pearlington waste site will continue to accept household garbage although trash disposal is forbidden while work is completed to meet Department of Environmental Quality standards.

County road supervisor Sam Cuevas said the site's compactor is still in operation but all trash must be brought to the Standard dump located on C.C. Road off Highway 603 in northern Hancock County during this time.

He explained, "DEQ cited minor violations which must be corrected before trash acceptance can resume."

Cuevas said he anticipates completion of the work within the next two weeks.

Correction

An article in the September 10 edition of The Sea Coast Echo stated that the Hancock County School Board requested a 2.6 millage return from the Board of Supervisors for the Hancock County Vocational-Technical Center.

The correct amount of the requested return is 26 mills, or approximately $34,000.

The Sea Coast Echo regrets the error.

BUSINESSES SUPPORTIVE

Businesses are rolling out the red carpet to host and promote the city's many artists in today's event.

Charter members of the Bay St. Louis Development Foundation, in partnership with the City of Bay St. Louis, have spent months working with artists to present the major exhibition and sale.

"Local businessmen acknowledge the impact a vital art community has on their economic future. These businesses have been generous in their financial, facility and personal support to present this event. Their cooperation is the reason we can provide space to give equal exposure to the great number of artists participating in the tour," foundation manager Mike Cuevas said.

Foundation charter members include Halcyon House Antiques, Yesterday's Treasures, Weaver's Frame Studio and Gallery, Simply Southern Limited, Marion Wittington Jewelry, Olde Towne Restaurant, Serenity and Bay Crafts.

Parts of Main Street close for artists' tour

Bay St. Louis city officials will close the 100-200 blocks of Main Street to accommodate pedestrian traffic for "A Place of Art," today from 1-6 p.m.

"This is our city's premier cultural event. We want our visitors to enjoy strolling our streets and visiting with Bay St. Louis artists."

"These artists visually chronicle what Bay St. Louis is all about. They present the essence of our community in their work, and we are proud to share these treasures," said Mayor Eddie Favre.

Through traffic will remain open on all other surrounding streets, including Beach Boulevard and Second Street.

Cable TV complaints received by officials

BY ELLIS CUEVAS

Hancock County District One Supervisor Robert (Pete) Peterson said he has received numerous telephone calls in recent days about cable television in the rural areas of the county being out for days at a time.

In December, 1991 the Hancock County Board of Supervisors presented a resolution to its legislative delegation allowing supervisors to have some jurisdiction over television cable systems.

During the 1992 session, efforts were made to regulate the cable TV systems, but all failed, J.P. Compretta, state representative, said Friday.

Compretta said in the 1993 session, he is going to introduce a bill to place regulations on cable TV systems under the jurisdiction and regulation of the Public Service Commission, or as an alternative, allow the board of supervisors of each county the power to license and regulate.

"Based on the number of complaints I have recently received, I am going to suggest that the supervisors and officials of Bay St. Louis and Waveland, explore the possibility of operating their own cable TV systems within the entire county," Compretta said.

One Mississippi city has already gained legislative authority in 1992 to operate a cable TV system within its city.

Hancock County Board of Supervisors attorney Gerald Gex said, as the law now stands, 'the supervisors' hands are tied,' and they can do nothing as they have no authority over the companies.

Necaise stated, the agreement between county supervisors and Pearl River Community College did not specify what would be done with the monies. He added the board, at that time, was led to believe the monies would be used for the Hancock facility.

District 1 Supervisor Robert Peterson said the vo-tech building "was supposed to have received a new roof not long ago. He wished to know who completed the roof."

Bourgeois answered she did not know.

Board members questioned why Hancock School District decided to assume the building when it had so many problems, interjecting they (the board of supervisors) were afforded no input at the time of the school board decision.

Bourgeois stated she too was not responsible for whatever judgement was used in deciding to assume ownership of the building, "When I took office, we had the building."

She added, "The fact remains that we have to be responsible for all the upkeep."

She said, without the funds to repair the building and incorporate new programs, the center could lose state and federal funding.

At Thursday's workshop meeting Necaise suggested Bourgeois use a portion of the $880,000-plus funds the school district would be receiving this year from county taxes.

She said those monies would be going to regular district operations, building repairs and additions, and implementation of needed programs.

School board member Cheryl Bennett, attending the Thursday workshop session, said the school district was facing many additional expenses within the next few years.

"We want to be sure," Bennett commented, "that in maintaining the buildings, we do not fall short of what goes in them."

Elaborating, she said, Hancock schools are beginning to reach maximum capacity; and district enrollment has increased by over 300 students this year alone, meaning more rooms, more teachers, and more school buses at a cost of $38,000 each.

Three new bus routes have been added; and the band director has presented a five-year plan which totals a $40,000 investment in instruments and uniforms.

Bennett said, "With growth comes cost. The track team wants uniforms, teachers want new programs, and we want our kids to have them."

Board members repeatedly stated Tuesday they would not raise taxes, but they were supportive of a functioning vo-tech school where future industrial workers and tradesmen could receive proper training.

It was suggested then to Bourgeois that she solicit financial assistance from those other schools whose students participate in the programs offered.

She responded, per-student fees are now being paid by those schools, citing Bay High and St. Stanislaus as two contributors.

The board approved payment of $80,416 to the county school district Tuesday, its share of reimbursement from state homestead exemption monies collected.

"QUOTABLE QUOTES"

By Ellis C. Cuevas

It was good to hear the totals collected in the area for the Jerry Lewis/Muscular Dystrophy Association annual fund-raising efforts sponsored by the Waveland Civic Association.

Approximately $18,562 was raised according to Louie Smolensky, MDA chairman for the area.

Once again Charlie Henderson Ford was the headquarters for the telethon, which was held last Sunday and Monday.

Louie is grateful for the efforts of everyone who helped with the telethon and the many fund-raising events.

Many years of efforts have gone into research on the causes of and cures for Muscular Dystrophy and more still needs to be done.

Someday it is hope there will be a cure for this crippling disease.

Louie would like to express his thanks to all the volunteers and donors who helped make 1992 a very successful drive, and he is looking forward to next year's event already.

It was good, too, to see that the more money was raised on the national level this year for Muscular Dystrophy.

Jerry Lewis and his entire crew work very hard, too. Congratulations to Smolensky and all of his helpers and donors.

It is interesting the way things are happening in Florida and Louisiana in the aftermath of Hurricane Andrew.

I have had several conversations with those who were here after Hurricane Camille, and the order of events appears to be very slow.

Among the things I am talking about are the complaints on the slow response time of federal assistance, surplus supply of clothing and lack of shelters, bringing in mobile homes and the fear of health related problems from contaminated water and food items.

One can only know the hardships the survivors are really suffering by having gone through one of these disasters.

When it is all over with, and that takes years in many cases, one wonders how they survived it all.

My heart goes out to those who were hit the hardest by Andrew.

Anti-litter hotlines set up in Bay, county

Hotlines have been implemented for people in Bay St. Louis and outside the city limits to call if they see someone toss trash out of a vehicle.

If you see someone do this, memorize or write down the vehicle's license number and call the appropriate hotline number. A recording will instruct you as to how to report the violation.

After the vehicle registration is traced, a letter will be sent by the appropriate authority to the vehicle owner. The letter does not accuse the vehicle owner of throwing the trash, but states that an occupant of a vehicle which is or was owned by that person was seen throwing trash out of the vehicle.

The letter states that no charges are being filed at the time the letter is issued, but also reminds the person that littering is illegal and carries a $250 fine.

The numbers to call are 255-6234 for a violation witnessed in Bay St. Louis, and 255-6246 for one witnessed in the county.

Littering is socially unacceptable behavior...

IN CONGRESS

By Rep. Gene Taylor

If free trade agreement enacted, Mississippi loses

While traveling throughout South Mississippi over the past few weeks, I have listened to many of your friends' and neighbors' concerns and done my best to answer your questions. Whether I've met you down at the local drug store or at one of my Town Hall meetings, your concerns are truly important to me.

One specific concern seems to be on the minds of a majority of South Mississippians. Now that the United States, Canada and Mexico have recently agreed to create the world's largest trade block, citizens have asked, "How will the North American Free Trade Agreement affect Mississippians?"

The preliminary agreement covers a territory stretching from the Yukon to the Gulf of Mexico with some 360 million people and an economy of $6 trillion. The pact would eliminate tariffs, duties and other trade barriers over the next 15 years, allowing goods produced anywhere in Mexico, Canada and the U.S. to move more freely. Many of the details have yet to be finalized, however. Congress must still approve the pact, which isn't expected to be completed until next year.

On paper, the agreement looks good. The accord, however, will produce many losers. I believe Mississippi will be placed in the losers' bracket. The agreement, in its current form, is a real danger to Mississippi and the entire U.S. economy. The agreement may weaken U.S. environmental, labor, public health and consumer safety standards. More importantly, it will result in the loss of U.S. and Mississippi manufacturing jobs to low-wage Mexican workers.

Since Mexico began opening its borders to greater foreign imports and investment, U.S. companies have been moving south of the border at an alarming rate. Furthermore, the move to take advantage of cheap labor and looser environmental and health laws would lower U.S. standards in these areas. The document is terribly deficient on environmental grounds and would be one of the worst environmental mistakes of the decade.

On the issue of jobs, the U.S. and manufacturers of glass products.

Finally, we are the world's market. Instead of seeking ways to entice U.S. manufacturers to close their plants all across America and move to Mexico, we should be fighting tooth and nail to protect our people and their jobs. As currently written, this legislation will allow Mexico to skirt strict U.S. environmental laws, take precious American manufacturing jobs and possibly decrease U.S. wages.

This agreement would cost thousands of Mississippians their jobs. And it is my conviction that these are sacrifices Mississippians simply cannot afford in the midst of a recession. You can be assured that when this measure is voted on in the U.S. House of Representatives, I will strongly oppose it. The agreement would allow Mexico to chip away, bit by bit, at America's labor force. The pact would threaten U.S. workers by permitting cheap, unregulated labor to produce duty-free goods for export to this country—goods now produced in this country. This is a great jobs program for Mexico. But Mexico's prosperity should not come at the expense of the U.S.'s number one resource—the American worker.

The Administration's view that the agreement will lead to a net increase in U.S. jobs is a hard case to sell to Mississippians who may lose their jobs as U.S. manufacturers move factories to Mexico. At the present time, organized labor officials estimate that "There are 600,000 jobs along the Mexican border that used to be U.S. jobs."

The agreement is also likely to have little effect on the price of U.S. consumer goods because nearly half of all Mexican imports already enter the U.S. duty-free under a program designed to create jobs for Mexicans along the border.

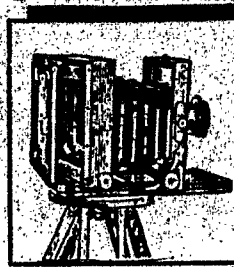

As I stated earlier, there will be several losers. The losers include produce farmers—especially those in the Deep South where the growing season is the same as in Mexico—textile workers, sugar produc-

The company is negotiating for the purchase of a quarters barge, built for the Navy in 1943 to be placed within an existing inlet north of the ship site. It will be transformed into a 100-150-room hotel facility, to be called 'King of the Bayou.'

Long range plans, according to Baxter, included eventual construction of a large hotel, if land can be acquired to the north.

The corporation is conducting a 201 study for future sewerage disposal, in spite of approval from the state health department for temporary waste disposal into the Waveland Wastewater Treatment District at an approximate cost of $300,000 per year.

"As you can see," Baxter commented, "it becomes quite an expensive item."

Baxter said, "Aboard the ship, if room is available, we plan to create an area for video games for kids."

"We are only two miles from Buccaneer State Park, and this is one of the things I have heard from people, that they would like to see something for the young people to do while the adults gamble."

He described the transformation of the Cure family shrimp processing building, currently on site, into a three-story location, intended for corporate offices and warehouses.

He requested a renegotiation of the $2.50 per head board fee, saying, "If we have to pay per head, we will have to count every person who goes aboard the ship. This will require some sort of turnstile and ticket selling.

"If a person comes and goes, three or four times during the day, we will have to count the one person as three to four separate individuals. Administration of that will be very difficult."

The board agreed to discuss a possible change to the per head charge during a workshop session after September 15.

Baxter concluded his presentation saying corporate offices on Coleman Avenue in Waveland will house a dealer training school probably to be opened in October.

Tigers crush Rocks, 38-6

BY RANDY PONDER
The Bay High Tigers scored quickly and often in route to a 38-6 one-sided victory over crosstown rival St. Stanislaus Friday night in a heated high school football game at Rock-A-Chaw Stadium.

Everything seemed to go right for the Tigers, even the coin toss, which they won and elected to defer to the second half.

St. Stanislaus received to start the contest, ran three plays and punted.

Bay High took over on the Tiger 48 and moved to the Rock nine before the drive stalled and St. Stanislaus took over on downs.

An optimistic Tiger defense then stopped two Rock runs in the backfield before Gerrit Carver recovered a loose pitch-out in the end zone for a Bay High touchdown. The point after touchdown was wide to the left. With 5:01 left in the opening quarter, the Tigers were on top to stay, 6-0.

Following the punt, St. Stanislaus again was unable to penetrate the aggressive Tiger defensive line, and facing fourth and 28 after three plays and a penalty, was forced to punt from near the goal line.

The snap from center went over the punter's head, but he recovered and made a short desperation kick from the end zone, averting another Tiger defensive TD.

With the ball at the Rock 24, Bay High quarterback Sam Sheppard fired a strike to Marcel Whavers, standing all alone at the St. Stanislaus goal line, for the Tiger's second score of the game. The pass was Bay High's first of the contest and first completion of the year.

Larrone Lewis raced in with a pitchout for a two-point conversion as Bay High built their lead to 14-0 with 2:01 to play in the first period.

After the punt, St. Stanislaus had the ball on their 39, and needed to do something to get back into the contest.

Signal caller Jeffrey Bishop connected with Stanley Chapman for a six-yard pass. The Tigers were then flagged for pass interference on the next play, moving the pigskin to the Bay High 40 and a first down.

Chapman then grabbed a handoff, broke a tackle and charged down to the Tiger 23 for another first down.

The wheels fell off at this point and the Rocks self-destructed. An incomplete pass, a three-yard loss on a pitchout, five-yard penalty for illegal procedure, and finally a quarterback sack on fourth down killed the scoring threat.

Bay High could not pick up a first down and punted back to the Rocks at the St. Stanislaus 28.

A swarming Tiger defense completely shut down the Rock-A-Chaw offense and on third down, big number 71, Yancey Mayfield, stood up from his defensive tackle position to block and almost intercept a pass.

The ball hit his hand, seemed to stop and just hang in the air for an eternity before falling slowly to the ground.

On the ensuing punt, another bad snap forced the kicker to chase down the ball as the Tigers chased him, resulting in no punt and Bay High's ball on the Rock 19.

The Tigers quickly cashed in, scoring on a two-yard run by Dwayne Antoine. A two-point conversion attempt was no good, leaving Bay High with a commanding 20-0 advantage with 5:23 left in the half.

St. Stanislaus' woes continued on their next possession, three plays and punt. This time the kicker got the ball away, only to have it returned for a touchdown.

Fleet footed Xavier Lewis ran down the punt that had sailed over his head, turned on the speed and out raced everyone down the right sidelines, 55 yards for the score.

Another two-point try was stopped, but with 2:17 to go in the second quarter, Bay High was in control, 26-0.

The Rocks' next series ended in a lost fumble. The half ended with Bay High knocking at the door.

Bay High capped a 31-yard drive late in the third quarter with a 20-yard pass to Xavier Lewis for a TD. Xavier Lewis or Floyd Lewis either one could have made the catch. Both were in the end zone together.

Again, the two-point try was missed and the score was now 32-0 with 1:45 left in the third.

It was time for St. Stanislaus to make some major adjustments. Nathan Middleton entered the game at quarterback after the kickoff gave the Rocks the ball on their 21.

Middleton stepped back to pass on his first play and found a wide open Jeffrey Bishop over the middle for a completion that almost went for a touchdown.

With a first and goal at the Tiger 10, a keeper went for four yards before Middleton again connected with quarterback-turned-receiver Bishop for a touchdown. The PAT was no good but the Rocks had scored to end the shutout, 32-6.

Bay High ran three plays and punted on their next possession.

St. Stanislaus' next series ended in a pass interception by Marcel Whavers, who returned the ball to the Rock 15, setting up Bay High's final TD.

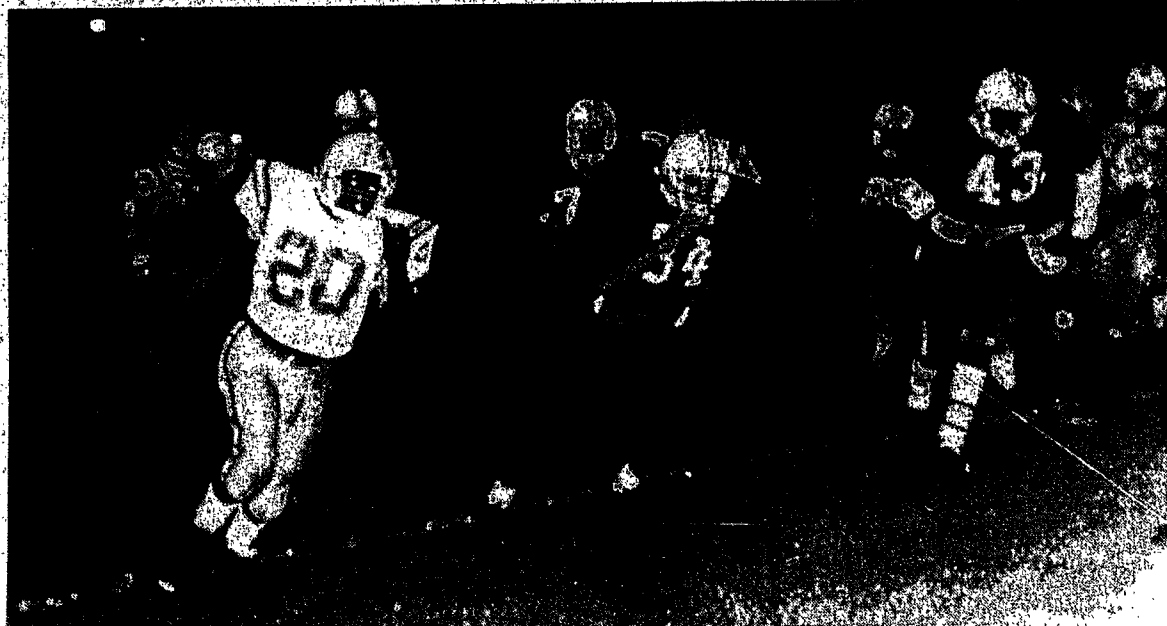

A pass from Sheppard to Whavers got the points at the 7:47 mark of the final stanza, giving the Tigers a 38-6 victory.

"This was a long time coming; we played a good game," Bay High head coach Rocky Gaudin said after the game. "We were the more experienced team. St. Stanislaus is going through what we went through, they are young and inexperienced."

St. Stanislaus coach Ken Lyons agreed, "They have a very aggressive defense. They shut down our ground game and forced us into a desperation passing game."

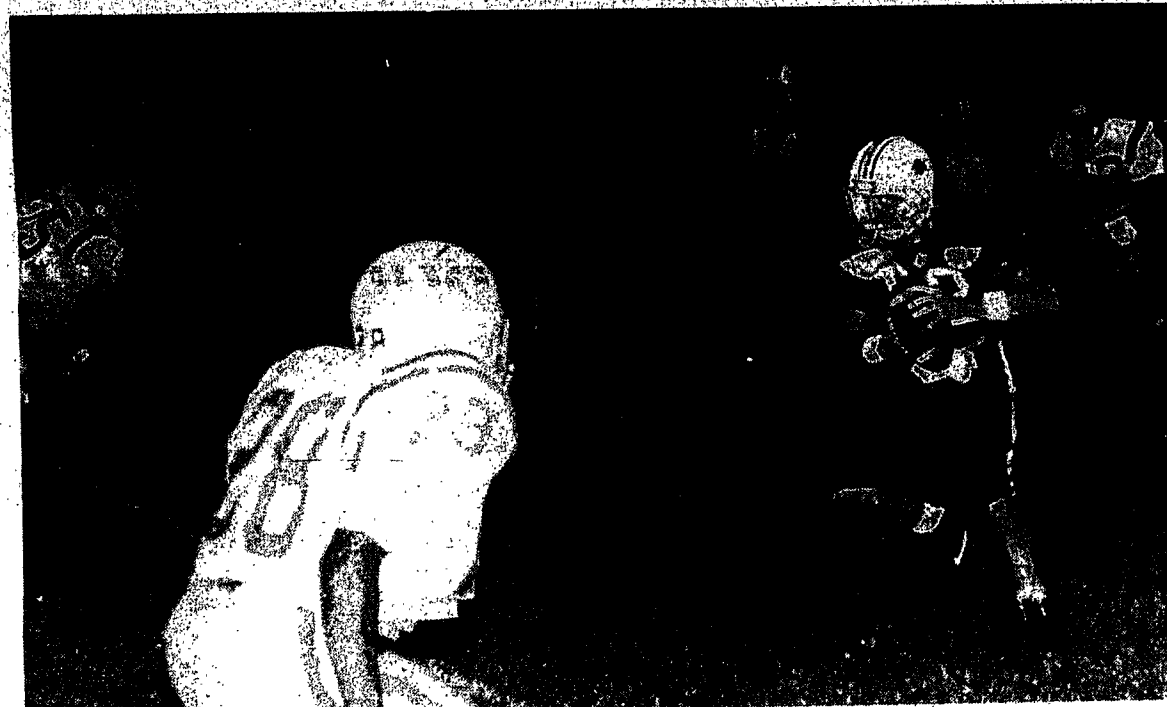

The 2-0 Tigers will play their first conference game next Friday against Forrest County on the road.

St. Stanislaus, 0-2, will also play their first district game on the road at St. Martin. Game times for both games is 7:30 p.m.

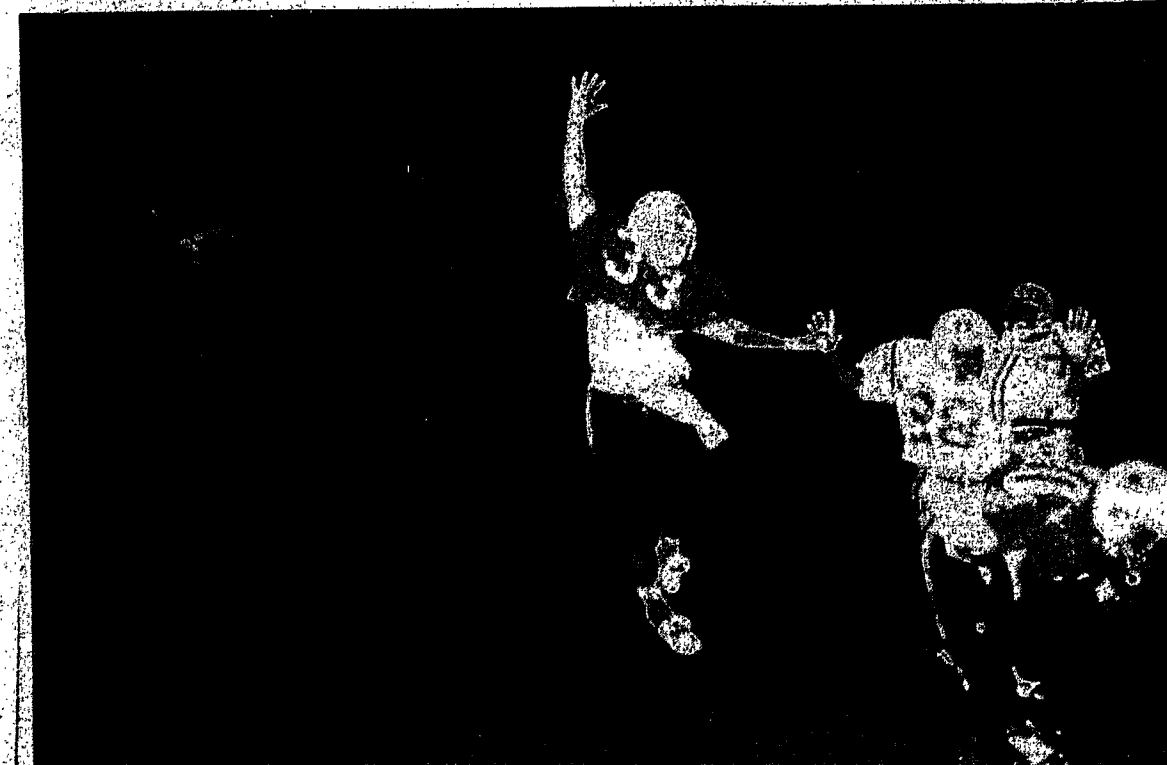

Standout performance

Larrone Lewis, #20, cuts loose for a big gain and a first down during the first quarter of the Bay High-St. Stanislaus football game Friday night at Rock-A-Chaw Stadium. Lewis gained 89 yards on 10 carries and also scored on a two-point conversion as the Tigers defeated the Rocks, 38-6.

No where to go

St. Stanislaus quarterback Jeffrey Bishop, #12, found very little room to operate against an aggressive Tiger defensive unit that was often in his backfield as soon as he received the snap from center. Bay High upended the Rocks 38-6 to stop a five-game losing streak in the crosstown series.

Incomplete pass

Stanley Chapman, #33, was unable to haul in this pass that went off his fingertips in the first quarter of the Bay High-St. Stanislaus football game. The Tigers won the contest 38-6, to improve their record to 2-0. The Rock-A-Chaws fall to 0-2 with the loss.

Hawks fall to 5A Red Rebels

BY JACQUI COCHRAN
The Hancock County Hawks walked away Friday night with the bitter pill of defeat, as 5A Harrison Central controlled the board with a 34-6 victory.

In spite of the loss of starters Dennis Malley and Lance Wedgeworth to injuries in the first half, the Hawks held together to divert a shutout when quarterback Scotty Davis ran the ball six yards for a score with slightly more than two minutes left in the game.

The Hawks attempted to add two additional points to the board, but Davis' pass to Matt Harmon was unsuccessful.

The Red Rebels ended the first quarter of play with a 20-0 lead, having completed three touchdowns and two PATs. The first TD came within less than a minute of play. The Red Rebels received the ball, completed one down and a pass carried by Rod Wright for 65 yards which began the Hawk downfall.

The Hawks pushed hard for a gain of two downs and a total of 35 yards when Malley's kick fell wide to the left on a 38-yard field goal attempt.

The Hawks held the Red

Rebels back for two attempts at a first down when a Harrison Central quarterback Chris Haskins handed off to Reggie Seymour, who carried the ball 86 yards for the second Red Rebel score.

The PAT was blocked and Harrison Central was left with a 19-0 lead, as 3:43 was left in the first quarter.

The Hawks began to drive again. One down, two downs, and a quarterback sack forced ball possession back into Red Rebel hands.

With 20 seconds left in the half, and on the first play at their own 39, Haskins passed again to Wright, who raced down the field for 61 yards and the third Red Rebel TD.

The extra point kick was good, and Harrison Central claimed a 20-0 lead at the half.

The second half opened with the Hawks receiving the ball.

The Hawks completed two downs for a total of 27 yards when they were forced to punt on a fourth down attempt five minutes into the third quarter.

Harrison Central received on their 18 and carried the ball to

Two completed downs moved the Hawks slightly down field and back to Harrison Central possession went the ball.

Harrison again was stopped from completing a first down, and a bad snap on the fourth down attempt left the Hawks 12 yards from the Red Rebel goal.

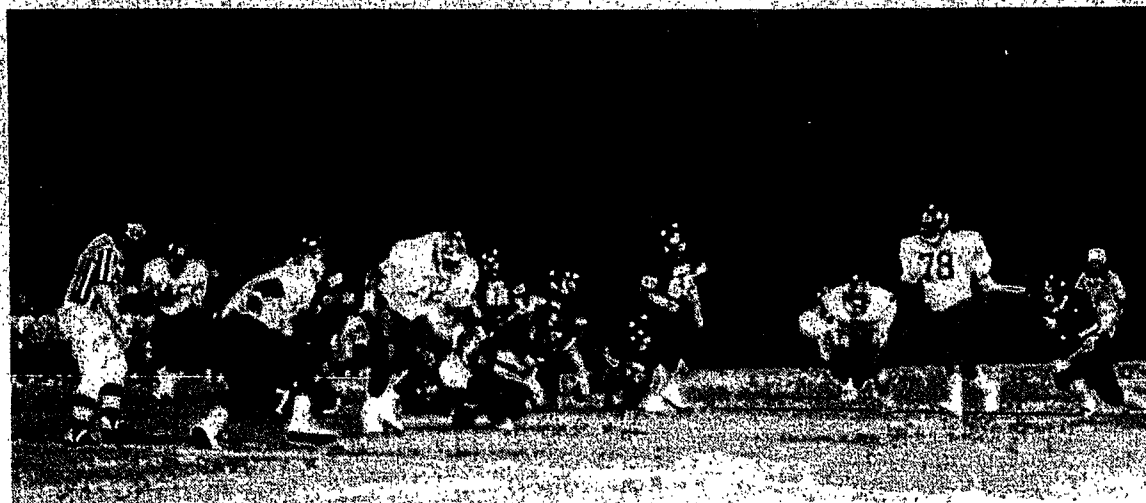

The Hawk drive completed with Davis running in the Hawk score.

The Hawks ended Friday with their first loss in regular season play, placing them 1-1.

This coming Friday the Hawks travel to Long Beach to play the Bearcats, beginning at 7:30 p.m.

An incomplete Red Rebel pass.

NRL Stennis employees undergo sexual harassment prevention training

More than 450 Naval Research Laboratory (NRL) employees received sexual harassment prevention training Sept. 2 and 3.

As directed by then Undersecretary of the Navy Dan Howard, all Navy commands completed mandatory sexual harassment prevention training before Sept. 4. NRL successfully trained 4,000 employees in 12 separate sessions within the required time frame.

Capt. Paul G. Gaffney II, commanding officer of NRL, began the sessions that were conducted by trainers from O.D. Systems, Inc. of Alexandria, Va.

Employees learned how to recognize and prevent sexual harassment by participating in sessions enlivened by role playing, enthusiastic audience participation, taped interviews of laboratory employees on the subject, and presentations by O.D. Systems Inc.

"My policy on sexual harassment prevention is rooted in a clear and simple principle: mutual respect," said Capt. Gaffney. "Simple respect for a fellow worker, neighbor, or human being is a grown-up way of acting and is fundamental to civilized life."

"The recent indiscretions of a few that have been widely published in the media should in no way diminish your pride in your Navy and NRL," Gaffney said.

"Mutual respect is fundamental to everyday business among NRL employees. Accordingly, sexual harassment and discrimination will not be tolerated. This also applies to contractors who work at NRL or those who visit the laboratory," he said.

The sessions here ended a month-long whirlwind training conducted by Capt. Gaffney and the trainers at NR sites in Washington, D.C.; Monterey, Calif.; Stennis Space Center; and Orlando, Fla.

Reflections

On Life

By Father Jerome
LeDoux, SVD

You have a song
to sing

Why has God left you here while taking away innumerable people of every age, condition and profession who were worthier, more talented, more holy and more promising than you?

Because you still have a song to sing, and no one else can sing it for you. It is your rendition and no other that God wants and demands. Besides, your song, whatever the quality or inherent worth, is necessary to the completion of the grand symphony of Planet Earth and indeed of the universe.

Myriads of lyrics have been written, countless melodies have been composed and most of them sung. But you are here because you still have a personal, unique song to sing ere you depart the confines of this earthly dwelling.

Why has God left you here? "Many people have composed better songs than I," you will say. "Many have written better lyrics and made more beautiful melodies, along with a catchier beat and rhythm."

Probably. But no one has composed your song. At whatever level of lyrical and musical competence or attraction, it is distinctly, uniquely your song, and therefore totally irreplaceable in the annals of human history.

Sing it! Sing it in your thoughts, in your words, in your gestures, in your facial expressions, in your sigh, in your glance, in your very demeanor. Sing it in your gait, in your skip, in your every move.

In the midst of your moments of quiet and reflection as well as during your shouts or screams of excitement and exultation, sing your song out for all the world to hear.

Sing it in your smile, in your transports of glee and on your occasions of success and triumph as readily as in your periods of discouragement, pain, failure, sorrow, serious deliberation and decision.

There is a place for your song in every situation at home, in each detail on the job, and wherever or whenever you choose to indulge in recreation or relaxation.

Why has God left you here? Because your work down here is not yet done. For you must sing a dirge with those who are sorrowing, and a melodious paean with those who are enjoying some moments of peace and joy.

"Rejoice with those who rejoice," Paul exhorts us, "and weep with those who weep" (Rom. 12: 15).

Now don't put yourself down and don't underestimate the power of your song. Believe it or not, there are many people who cannot wait for you to do your thing. They are not looking for a superstar of any kind to come their way. No, they are patiently waiting for you to sing your song to them.

Your song has a personal interest to those around you; an interest which cannot be supplanted or matched by the most skillful or famous of songsters and musicians.

It is not the product which interests them, but rather you yourself with all your limitations, character and personality defects, quirks, mannerisms, failures and even sinfulness.

Why has God left you here, perhaps seemingly beyond your point of usefulness to yourself and others?

Because God gave you to the world, to your country, to your community and your family as a gift so special that you must sing them your song every day, each hour, every moment.

WE DECIDE WHEN IT'S TIME TO BECOME 'SENIOR CITIZENS'

The term "senior citizen" becomes increasingly elastic. There are those who consider themselves in that category as early as in the 50s, while others wait a lot longer. A newspaper editor, at the age of 80, still covers news events and writes an interesting weekly column. An 84-year-old artist still turns out beautiful paintings. There is no arbitrary "cut-off date" for doing something creative with your life, as long as you are physically able and wish to stay young, as opposed to becoming a "couch potato." More over, the children and grandchildren of these late life go-getters should respect and encourage their endeavors. The Bible, as well as our House of Worship, would do this, and the love and attention we give our elders will make them feel not so "elder" after all.

Growing old is not upsetting; being perceived as old is.
—Kenny Rogers
